California Pork Producers Association

The California Pork Producers Association (CPPA) is the catalyst for California pork industry stakeholders to collectively and collaboratively build a socially responsible, sustainable, and economically viable pork industry through information, promotion, and education.

As part of its mission, CPPA provides opportunities for industry stakeholders to enhance marketing opportunities for its members and invest in today's youth to cultivate tomorrow's California pork industry leaders.

Thank you to the buyers and exhibitors for your continued support for our industry.

SCHOLARSHIP

Proceeds from the 2017 Golden Opportunity Sale helped to fund three $1,500 California Pork Producers Association's "Golden Opportunity Scholarship".

This scholarship is awarded to California State Fair Junior Swine Exhibitors who are graduating seniors and/or first-year college students pursuing an academic career in agriculture, with an emphasis in the swine industry.

Congratulations to this year's Golden Opportunity Scholarship Recipients:

- Corie Lee Falaschi, Los Banos, CA ~ Corie Lee will be attending Modesto Jr. College this fall with plans to transfer to California State University Fresno. She plans to major in Agriculture Education and pursue a career as a high school ag teacher and FFA instructor.
- Courtney King, Petaluma, CA ~ Courtney currently attends California State University Chico majoring in animal science and agricultural business. She plans to pursue a Masters Degree in animal nutrition and a career working in the commercial and show animal production feed nutrition sector.
- Shelby Weinrich, Willows, CA ~ Shelby will be attending Oklahoma State University this fall with a focus on law. During her junior year she plans to transfer into the Accelerated Law Program with Tulsa College of Law. Her goal is to become an attorney by age twenty-six.
